The Australian Curriculum framework is foundational for learning at Seaford Rise, and it is supplemented by the South Australian Teaching for Effective Learning resource which focuses on the pedagogy teachers use to increase student engagement and achievement. This goal is enhanced through the provision of opportunities that encourage students to delve deeply into rich tasks and develop higher-order thinking skills within and beyond the school grounds. Literacy and numeracy are unashamedly the key learning priorities and are supported by a whole school approach to Literacy and Numeracy which is derived from research and taught explicitly across all year levels. High-quality specialist programs are offered in PE (including representing the school in SAPSASA), The Arts and Languages (Japanese).

Key values of responsibility, respect, honesty, cooperation, friendliness and learning are developed through an intentional focus on developing a positive school culture and having a well defined behaviour education program for all students. Student well-being, student voice and student leadership are important in helping to develop a school culture that aligns with the ethos of the school. Seaford Rise Primary School is in partnership with parents/caregivers as collectively they work towards maximising positive outcomes for their children and the student body as a whole.

The Wellbeing Committee concentrates on working on whole school events such as Harmony Day and Open days, as well as developing a whole school Wellbeing Plan to help build a positive school culture and grow capacity with the school community.

Teaching and learning program

There are several principles, philosophies and programs that support the curriculum and are applicable across the whole school. We are delivering the Australian Curriculum in line with Australian Government requirements. In addition R-7 Literacy and Numeracy Agreements provide clear direction for the teachers in English and Mathematics.

Quality teaching and learning is based on the belief that teachers make a difference in student's lives through having high expectations, genuinely caring for all students and differentiating the learning to cater for the individual needs of each student. Research points to effective relationships between the teacher and the student and between students as the key to improving learning outcomes, which is a key focus within the school.

Our learning programs align with the schools vision and mission statements.

Student support offered

Full time student well-being coordinator, peer support programs and intensive interventions programs for students with special needs.

Student Behaviour Education

The school has a policy based on a respectful pathways model where staff and students focus on four key areas

- respectful language
- respect for learning
- respectful actions
- respect for safety

All classes develop their Essential Agreements and activate restorative practices and logical consequences which help to shape student behaviour. Values Awards are to recognise positive behaviours and learning.

Student Leadership

The SRC is an integral part of the planning and decision making processes of the school. It also provides leadership in supporting classes to conduct regular class meetings. The SRC meets with representation from Year 3-7 class. The SRC Executive provides student leadership in a range of ways throughout the year and takes responsibility for participating in school level areas including environs, WHS, fundraising and Be Active programs. They also have the opportunity to participate in the Student Leadership Forum run by the local Federal MP Amanda Rishworth.

Sports House Captains and Vice Captains are elected by their peers.

All classes participate in our Buddy Class program which provides leadership opportunities for older students in working with peers and younger students. They also take responsibility for running and presenting our assemblies.

Inclusive Learning

The school uses a collaborative approach between teachers, learning support staff and leadership to ensure that every student has the greatest opportunity to grow academically as well as socially and emotionally throughout their school life. We do this by expecting that all staff will know each of their students' well – their current levels of learning across the curriculum, their needs and their interests, along with a respect for the different ways students develop. We encourage teachers to use this knowledge to adjust their teaching practice to differentiate for the diverse range of learners in their class. A range of professionals (Speech Pathologists, Psychologists, Special Educators and others) are a valuable resource for staff and families. They provide professional learning along with specific assessments and goals for individual children. Data collected by teachers, screening tools and formal assessments are used to guide decisions about the best way to improve learning outcomes for each child.

For students who may have specific learning difficulties we provide access to Wave 2 interventions such as Minilit and MacqLit which are Australian, evidence-informed and targeted small group literacy programs. In addition, students with phonological awareness, speech or language difficulties receive 1:1 or small group support. There is a strong link between these programs and classroom practice. Learning improvement in Numeracy is provided through SSO support in class or targeted small group withdrawal. Students can also access a space and program designed to assist them with self-regulation through interoception and sensory activities for 10-15 minutes at a time. The goal is to pro-actively support children to self-regulate and re-engage positively with learning.

Wave 3 interventions are designed for children with extensive needs including personalised curricula, alternative learning spaces and opportunities for pursuing special interest projects.

The school aims to embed inclusive learning practices across the curriculum at all year levels so that all children can achieve.
